OPPOSER'S MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

Opposer, by its attorneys, hereby moves for a thirty (30) day extension of all due dates, beginning with the closing date for expert disclosures.

As grounds in support of this motion, Opposer states that this extension is needed for several reasons. First, while the parties have engaged in written discovery, Opposer is scheduled, at the present time, to take Applicant's discovery deposition on December 15, 2009. Under the present trial schedule, the deadline for the parties to exchange expert disclosures is December 2, 2009, some 13 days prior to the scheduled deposition of Applicant. Opposer would like the opportunity to retain an expert, if it deems such retention necessary and appropriate, depending on the discovery elicited on December 15, 2009 in connection with the discovery deposition taken on that date. For that reason, it is requested that the due date for exchanging expert disclosures be extended to allow Opposer the opportunity to determine, after taking Applicant's discovery deposition, whether retention of an expert is needed.

In addition to the foregoing, Opposer may wish to take additional follow up discovery of Applicant, depending on the discovery elicited on December 15, 2009 in connection with the discovery deposition to be taken on that date. Because the Christmas/New Year's holiday period begins shortly after the scheduled date of the December 15, 2009 deposition, Opposer requests that the discovery period be extended to allow for the orderly completion of discovery after the holiday season ends.

For the foregoing reasons, it is submitted that this motion is well taken and should be granted. While Opposer has requested that Applicant consent to this motion for extension of time, Applicant has refused to do so and has reserved its right to oppose such motion. In view of the foregoing, the Board, in granting the motion, is respectfully requested to extend all due dates, beginning with the due date for exchanging expert disclosures, for thirty days, those dates being set from the date of the Board's Order.

Respectfully submitted,

ROLEX WATCH U.S.A., INC.
